I asked my of men why he didn't look after himself better and he a longer life he said
"oh not that bad here any longer it would just feel longer... that was 1805 reason."

I never felt like I didn't have money even when I didn't... people paid my way before I could.
When I was three or four my mother Goggi used to help his parcel money and shared with me... anything he had... he really taught me to share. Later my father learned the hard way so we didn't have to sign a bad publishing deal.
He said I could live for a year at home without contacting cash but then that I would have to give up the land or get out of the house... Ali paid my way for the first time for a long living off your girlfriend... I didn't like it... but I got used to it... my mother, Goggi, Lucio, pomp... etc... all paid my bills. I always felt like I was poor... even if I was hanging out. So spent the money on stuff I shouldn't have... I used to drink a nasty, sugary orange drink that

(3) The family is the natural and fundamental group unit of society and is entitled to protection by society and the State.

Article 17.

(1) Everyone has the right to own property alone as well as in association with others.
(2) No one shall be arbitrarily deprived of his property.

Article 18.

Everyone has the right to freedom of thought, conscience and religion; this right includes freedom to change his religion or belief, and freedom, either alone or in community with others and in public or private, to manifest his religion or belief in teaching, practice, worship and observance.

Article 19.

Everyone has the right to freedom of opinion and expression; this right includes freedom to hold opinions without interference and to seek, receive and impart information and ideas through any media and regardless of frontiers.

Article 20.

(1) Everyone has the right to freedom of peaceful assembly and association.
(2) No one may be compelled to belong to an association.

Article 21.

(1) Everyone has the right to take part in the government of his country, directly or through freely chosen representatives.
(2) Everyone has the right of equal access to public service in his country.
(3) The will of the people shall be the basis of the authority of government; this will shall be expressed in periodic and genuine elections which shall be by universal and equal suffrage and shall be held by secret vote or by equivalent free voting procedures.

Article 22.

Everyone, as a member of society, has the right to social security and is entitled to realisation, through national effort and international co-operation and in accordance with the organisation and resources of each State, of the economic, social and cultural rights indispensable for his dignity and the free development of his personality.

Article 23.

(1) Everyone has the right to work, to free choice of employment, to just and favourable conditions of work and to protection against unemployment.
(2) Everyone, without any discrimination, has the right to equal pay for equal work.
(3) Everyone who works has the right to just and favourable remuneration ensuring for himself and his family an existence worthy of human dignity, and supplemented, if necessary, by other means of social protection.
(4) Everyone has the right to form and to join trade unions for the protection of his interests.

Article 24.

Everyone has the right to rest and leisure, including reasonable limitation of working hours and periodic holidays with pay.

Article 25.

(1) Everyone has the right to a standard of living adequate for the health and wellbeing of himself and of his family, including food, clothing, housing and medical care and necessary social services, and the right to security in the event of unemployment, sickness, disability, widowhood, old age or other lack of livelihood in circumstances beyond his control.
(2) Motherhood and childhood are entitled to special care and assistance. All children, whether born in or out of wedlock, shall enjoy the same social protection.

Article 26.

(1) Everyone has the right to education. Education shall be free, at least in the elementary and fundamental stages. Elementary education shall be compulsory. Technical and professional education shall be made generally available and higher education shall be equally accessible to all on the basis of merit.
(2) Education shall be directed to the full development of the human personality and to the strengthening of respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms. It shall promote understanding, tolerance and friendship among all nations, racial or religious groups, and shall further the activities of the United Nations for the maintenance of peace.
(3) Parents have a prior right to choose the kind of education that shall be given to their children.

Article 27.

The Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

(1) Everyone has the right freely to participate in the cultural life of the community, to enjoy the arts and to share in scientific advancement and its benefits.
(2) Everyone has the right to the protection of the moral and material interests resulting from any scientific, literary or artistic production of which he is the author.

Article 28.

Everyone is entitled to a social and international order in which the rights and freedoms set forth in this Declaration can be fully realised.

Article 29.

(1) Everyone has duties to the community in which alone the free and full development of his personality is possible.
(2) In the exercise of his rights and freedoms, everyone shall be subject only to such limitations as are determined by law solely for the purpose of securing due recognition and respect for the rights and freedoms of others and of meeting the just requirements of morality, public order and the general welfare in a democratic society.
(3) These rights and freedoms may in no case be exercised contrary to the purposes and principles of the United Nations.

Article 30.

Nothing in this Declaration may be interpreted as implying for any State, group or person any right to engage in any activity or to perform any act aimed at the destruction of any of the rights and freedoms set forth herein.

The Universal Declaration of Human Rights

On December 10, 1948 the General Assembly of the United Nations adopted and proclaimed the Universal Declaration of Human Rights. Following this historic act the Assembly called upon all Member countries to publicize the text of the Declaration and to cause it to be disseminated, displayed, read and expounded principally in schools and other educational institutions, without distinction based on the political status of countries or territories."

Article 1.

All human beings are born free and equal in dignity and rights. They are endowed with reason and conscience and should act towards one another in a spirit of brotherhood.

Article 2.

Everyone is entitled to all the rights and freedoms set forth in this Declaration, without distinction of any kind, such as race, colour, sex, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth and other status. Furthermore, no distinction shall be made on the basis of the political, jurisdictional or international status of the country or territory to which a person belongs, whether it be independent, trust, non-self-governing or under any other limitation of sovereignty.

Article 3.

Everyone has the right to life, liberty and security of person.

Article 4.

No one shall be held in slavery or servitude; slavery and the slave trade shall be prohibited in all their forms.

Article 5.

No one shall be subjected to torture or to cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment.

Article 6.

Everyone has the right to be recognized everywhere as a person before the law.

Article 7.

All are equal before the law and are entitled without any discrimination to equal protection of the law. All are entitled to equal protection against any discrimination in violation of this Declaration and against any incitement to such discrimination.

Article 8.

Everyone has the right to an effective remedy by the competent national tribunals for acts violating the fundamental rights granted him by the constitution or by law.

Article 9.

No one shall be subjected to arbitrary arrest, detention or exile.

Article 10.

Everyone is entitled in full equality to a fair and public hearing by an independent and impartial tribunal in the determination of his rights and obligations and of any criminal charge against him.

Article 11.

(1) Everyone charged with a penal offence has the right to be presumed innocent until proved guilty according to law in a public trial at which he has had all the guarantees necessary for his defence.

(2) No one shall be held guilty of any penal offence on account of any act or omission which did not constitute a penal offence, under national or international law, at the time when it was committed. Nor shall a heavier penalty be imposed than the one that was applicable at the time the penal offence was committed.

The HIMALAYAS are about as high as a human being can get without the paths are sometimes twenty a twenty mile contour that offer the only way around the mountain... if you see 1. mad enough

2. a paraclimber, 3 a goat
Start down one of these trails and Nature will teach you a lesson about God or maybe its God teaching a lesson about your nature
... to meet another soul on one of these paths without rock climbing equipment is disaster. The goats know this. They stare at each other. They gristle. Their baby that's just woken up can become a grown up growl. To pass each other is impossible. One will have to turn back to give way to the other.
Struggle will reach a certain end for one of them, maybe both of them, unless....

One lies down and becomes the path for the other. Its an extraordinary sight to see a goat do what a human cannot. Compromise. As its legs bend and kneel the comic devil creature lies down with its face pressing into the humbling dirt. The one makes way for the other. The other awkwardly mounts and walks over its potential rival and goes its way....

We always wondered why the word compromise was so compromised
... the suggestion being that you had sold out too cheaply your values... trampled your ideals by exposing them to the elements of other competing ones... diluting your strength... appearing weak
We expect little of our politicians and what little we expect is that they stick to their guns, they shouldn't they should put them down and go talk to the enemy....

Whos

is the world?

WE

We wish these things were self evident but... we need a new declaration of interdependence to remind ourselves... that men and women were created equal and in serving each other we discover the meaning of our lives... The journey of equality is about to take another step in its long walk away from my narrow definition of who qualifies to be treated with dignity and respect... for they recognize in me someone who belongs... We belong to each other. Sister and brother across ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~world~~ ^{continents} ~~and~~ ^{all} our nations.

Freedom is not a gift - for can only be a result of courage in the used freedom. Freedom is not a bridge on a dirt road - for can be a tree when so many are in chains... Slavery is not a physical ~~thing~~ ^{state} of the day... we let not fall asleep in the comfort of our freedom, let us stay awake to cheer the possibility of the day... we ~~often~~ ^{often} already close for an end... the pursuit of happiness will end in tears if the pursuit of justice does not follow in ^{it} ~~its~~ TRADE the peace won ^{through} TRADE ~~is~~ ^{is} more than Aio... the game cannot be played in an unlevel playing field where we refuse to let them put their products on our shelves while we flood their markets with ours... this is not fair trade... FAIR TRADE we cannot have the benefits of globalization without some of the responsibilities... let our joy be the outpouring of justice, our hope an advance in love, our certainty our peace not just the absence of war, but the stillness of spirit that comes when people are considered more valuable than ~~people's~~ ideas.

We must become the change we want to see in the world
